Hire a student or recent graduate for a summer work term in the energy sector and the Government of Nova Scotia can cover part of their wages.

The Energy Training Program helps post-secondary students and recent graduates get work experience in the energy sector with a hiring incentive for local businesses. Employers receive 60% (up to $9.00 an hour) of the student or graduate's wages for a 12 to 17-week work term.

The 2023 funding period is from April 24 to August 18. Employers can hire co-op students, non co-op students and recent graduates. All students and recent graduates must start their work terms by May 29, 2023.

For co-op students, please consult the specific university's requirements and conditions.
